BACKGROUND

Founded by a dedicated group of parents and Jill and Ed Vedder (Pearl Jam), EB Research Partnership is the largest nonprofit in the world dedicated to funding research to treat and cure Epidermolysis Bullosa (EB), a group of devastating and life-threatening genetic skin disorders that affect children from birth. EB Research Partnership utilizes an innovative business model of venture philanthropy; when EB Research Partnership makes a grant to a research project, any revenue from a commercially successful therapy or product is then directed back to the organization to fund additional research.

While EB Research Partnership seeks to cure EB, their model for venture philanthropy also serves to help treat and cure other rare diseases along the way. Every dollar raised impacts research on EB and has the potential to impact other rare diseases, affecting 350 million people worldwide (more than cancer and AIDS combined).

POSITION

EB Research Partnership seeks a dynamic, entrepreneurial, driven vice president of development to complete the $25M Venture Into Cures campaign, and continue to grow and diversify annual revenue from all sources. The vice president of development will be charged with leading and growing the development team and functions within EB Research Partnership. EB Research Partnership is more than halfway through a $25 million capital campaign and is looking for the vice president to drive the campaign to completion and continue growing and diversifying the organization's revenue streams.

The vice president of development reports to the CEO, manages a small team, and will work closely with the board (especially the chair) and volunteers.
